Sanshin Lessons

Alan Hiranaka has informed me that we may have an opportunity to learn to play the sanshin. We are still working the details. If you have an old instrument that could be brought back to playing condition, this may be your chance. We may start with learning to refurbish old sanshin and restore them to usable condition before we commence with playing lessons. If there are any members who are willing to part with any instruments, usable or unusable, please let us know
